

TKIS DRAMA MASTERY PROGRAM

Imagine a school that lets you spend almost half of your classroom time rehearsing, creating, exploring, performing and learning about the dramatic arts you love so much. Since 2010 The Kooralbyn International School has been offering to students with talent and enthusiasm for the Performing Arts the opportunity to become part of the Drama Mastery Program.

Within the program, students have the chance to either develop individual skills in specific fields of the Performing Arts (Directing, Performing, Stage Managing, Scriptwriting etc.) or gaining a broader understanding of each aspect through the staging of live public performances. The program is offered to students from years 6-12, who wish to advance their skills in any or all aspects of the Performing Arts.

Mastery Programs at TKIS are taken very serious and are integrated directly into the schools timetable, with 1.5 days per week of school time, dedicated to the students Drama Mastery rehearsals and study. Students are also expected to devote additional personal time to rehearsals and the preparation for public performances. Students enrolled in the program also are given the opportunity to work with industry professionals in classroom workshops and view professional live theatre at a number of leading theatre venues.
